Bridgwater Mercury December 27th 1917 Bridgwater and the War

Fierce fighting has been taking place in Romania west of Braila and in the Dobrrudja, and the Russians have been driven further North.

The King has sent a Christmas and New Year greeting to his sailors and soldiers and to the sick and wounded.

During bad weather in the North Sea two of our torpedo boats collided and sank and 49 men were lost.

Following a great aerial attack upon Maghdabah (20 miles south-south-west of El Arish) our mounted troops carried a strong enemy position, taking 1,130 prisoners and inflicting considerable casualties. Our airmen continue to harass the Turks in their flight.

The British successfully launched gas west of Messine and our heavy artillery shelled an enemy battery opposite Neuve Chapelle and Festubert.

In the raid undertaken at Arras, we penetrated two lines of enemy trenches, did considerable damage and returned with an officer and 57 other rank prisoners.

The King of Rumania delivered a stirring speech admitting the many sacrifices his country had made, but remained hopeful of the strong Russian reinforcements passing through.

The Russians captured heights in the Carpathians and inflicted considerable losses on the enemy.

The situation in Athens is still doubtful.

On the Doiran and Struma fronts the British undertook raids and serious loss was inflicted on the enemy.

Sir Douglas Haig's report on the Somme will be issued in the New Year.

No Christmas truce. Successful raids were carried out on the enemy's trenches east of Angres, south-west of Lens and east of Armentieres. There has been considerable artillery activity at intervals during the day on our front north of the Somme, with much damage done.

Artillery activity has continued in the neighbourhood of Ypres, also south of Armentieres.

Enemy's sweep in the Dobrudja – Two Danube towns occupied.

The Russians have been forced to give ground in the region of Rymnik-Sarat, having to abandon Isaktcha and Tulcea, but the battle continues. On the Moldavian front however, the Russians took 300 prisoners and several machine guns north of the Uzul Valley.

Switzerland has addressed a Note appealing for the Powers to make an effort to reach a peaceful settlement. The Swiss government has been in touch with President Wilson on the subject for the past five weeks. The German Press appear to be very annoyed with Mr Wilson fearing he will aggravate the situation instead of improving it.

Roll of Honour. Photos have been posted of Private A. W. Beard and Private Albert Henry Spring, both were previously reported in this newspaper as killed in action.

Private Gilbert Burrington of Canadian Infantry, but formerly of Westfield House was killed instantaneously by a shell in the trenches in France on November 21st. He has been awarded the Military Medal for bravery and gallant conduct. He was well known and highly esteemed in the Bridgwater district and was a keen cricketer having played for the county.

Corporal Alfred Miller from North Petherton and of the Somersets was killed in action on 14th November. He had been associated with the Congregational Church at North Petherton and the pastor paid a warm tribute to his character and qualities.

Sapper Tom Williams of the Wessex Engineers, who resided in Chilton Street has died in hospital from wounds. At first the War Office notified his family that he had been wounded, but the next day a letter was received informing them of his death.

Private E Kirk of the Devons, now serving in Mesopotamia has sent an interesting letter to this paper describing various attacks. The order came to go "over the top" and the officer in charge kept a very cool head but was wounded. It is not known what the outcome was. A long description followed of Private Kirk's subsequent visit to hospital.
